

Hi Kids!

I am really missing seeing you and your family in church.

I hope that soon we will be able to meet up again and hear about all the things you have been doing during lockdown.

Our worship in church starts again this Sunday (5th July). Church looks a little bit different at the moment as you can see from the picture. Andrew and I have moved some of the chairs and put stickers on the floor so people do not stand too close.

Just for now we have had to move our toys and books from church but we will bring them back soon.

If you and your family decide to come to church on a Sunday you can pick the best time to suit you as all the services will be the same at 9am, 11am or 4pm. You will be able to see our new rainbow banner on the wall and wave at any friends you see. You need to stay sitting with your family all the time but the service will only be about 35 minutes. Perhaps you could bring a drink or biscuits to eat and maybe a bag of books or toys.

Our rainbow banner reminds us of the rainbow that God put in the sky for Noah, his family and all the animals after the flood. The rainbow was a sign of God's promise. The Bible is full of wonderful promises from God—He promises to be with us, look after us, help us and love us. As a church we are thinking about God's promises.

If you do decide to come to church you will hear all about these promises and you might like to bring the special worship pack I have enclosed.

If you and your family still need to stay at home then maybe you can join in with our service online (the links are on the church website and Facebook page) and you could use this worship pack at home.

Wherever you are and whatever your family decide to do, please know that we are praying for you, you are part of our church family and you are very important.

God bless Jenny x
